Welcome Letter

I am so excited to welcome you to the 2024 Educators Rising National Conference! Each year, this event is the place where the nation’s top middle and high school rising educators compete, showcase talent, network, and join in our movement with other like-minded future educators and their teachers and sponsors.

Thank you for being a part of the movement. After all, your commitment and passion make Educators Rising such an amazing place to come together and share in our calling in education. As the CEO of PDK International and Educators Rising, I’m thrilled to be here with you for my first conference as the new leader of our organization and can’t wait to be inspired together. Our Educators Rising movement is growing, and I can’t thank you enough for your passion for our program and your interest in becoming a teacher in your community. Congratulations on getting to nationals and good luck as you strive to become a national champion!

These accomplishments build on our legacy of inspiring high school students to pursue a career in education. You may not know that Educators Rising began as Future Teachers of America in 1937 and since PDK’s acquisition of the program in 1994, more than 346,600 aspiring educators have been helped by our programs, with 155,700 in the time since we have become Educators Rising.

Educators Rising has grown from an after-school club to a career and technical student organization (CTSO) offering a curriculum, competitions, conferences, networking, micro-credentials, and more.

Now, in 2024, we’re poised to expand and grow even more as you serve communities throughout America. We couldn’t do that without your hard work, and I’m so proud of everything you’re doing to strengthen our profession. Our 2024 National Conference promises to be a fun and engaging opportunity to learn, grow, and compete. Over the next four days, you’ll have the chance to:

- Compete for national recognition.
- Learn from leading education professionals in nearly 60 breakout sessions.
- Meet representatives of associations and colleges and universities in our exhibit hall.

We want to thank our conference sponsors who have helped make this event possible. Thank you to the following sponsors:

- AFT
- ISTE
- Golden Apple Foundation
- Impexium
- James Madison University
- National Education Association
- Old Dominion University
- PPGAV
- Stagetime Productions
- Study.com
- Teaching Channel
- The University of Wisconsin, Stevens Point
- Towson University
- Virginia State University
- XQ Institute

I continue to be optimistic about the future of education in our country because I see the incredible work you’re doing now and that you will do in the future for our children and communities.

Thank you and have a great conference.

James F. Lane, Ed.D.
CEO, PDK International

Educators Rising has had a greater impact than ever before:

- This year’s conference is our largest ever with nearly 3,300 attendees! This record number shows the strength and power of this movement.
- Our membership has grown to more than 20,000 students and 1,000 chapters nationwide. We are now in every state and the District of Columbia, with 38 formal affiliate states.
- More states and districts than ever have applied to add Educators Rising to their budgets.
- We anticipate that Educators Rising curriculum use is up by more than 150% over 2023.
- We are launching our curriculum assessments to help teachers and students better track their learning and understanding.
- We have partnerships with committed organizations like the NEA that have endorsed Educators Rising’s middle and high school program and curriculum.
- We are building partnerships with the U.S. Department of Labor as well as the Department of Education.

346,600 aspiring educators have been helped by our programs, with 155,700 in the time since we have become Educators Rising.
Educators Rising Mission

Educators Rising is cultivating a new generation of highly skilled educators by guiding young people on a path from high school through college and into their teaching careers. By working with aspiring educators who reflect the demographics of their communities and who are passionate about serving those communities through public education, Educators Rising is changing the face of teaching.

Educators Rising Vision

A clear pathway in every school district in America for young people who want to serve their communities as highly skilled educators.

Elected by their peers, the Educators Rising National Student Officer team consists of four trailblazing leaders. They represent the organization from a unique perspective and are committed to leading and serving in education. Throughout this past year, these four student leaders have used their voices to represent the organization, serve different communities, and advocate for education. They also serve as your MCs at this year's conference.

The four Educators Rising National Student Officers accomplished many things throughout the year, included the following:

- Panelists for the National School Boards Association (NSBA)
- CUBE Conference Panelists for the American Association for Employment in Education (AAEE)
- Contributors to the inaugural Educators Rising Student Voices blog

- Guest speakers at state conferences
- Recognition from state education leaders
- Webinar panelists
- Leading the #12DaysofEdRising, EdRising Week, monthly service projects, and multiple social media campaigns

National Student President

Milan Aranda | Omaha, Nebraska

Milan is a 2023 graduate of Burke High School. She is going into her second year at Northwest Missouri State University pursuing a career in elementary and special education. This is her fifth year in Educators Rising, and she has competed in various competitions such as Educators Rising Moment and Interactive Bulletin Board. In her leadership, she has served as the 2022 Educators Rising Nebraska State President. Milan was also a chapter officer for Educators Rising and participated in unified sports at her high school. In college, Milan has been involved in KIDS (Kind Individuals Dedicated to Students), a mentoring program for elementary school students. Milan decided to pursue education when she was very young. She has never had a teacher of color, so that drives her to pursue education. She hopes to be part of the reason students are excited to come to school and to create a safe environment where all students feel welcomed and heard. Milan's life goal is to always make people feel welcome, safe, included, and make people laugh in and outside of the classroom. Apart from school activities and education, Milan enjoys yoga and spin classes, going for walks with friends and family, traveling, and going shopping.
National Student Vice President of Engagement
Hailey Calderon | Stamps, Arkansas

Hailey Calderon is a 2024 graduate of Lafayette County High School. She graduated with her associate degree, Technical Certificate in Certified Teaching Assistant, and her high school diploma. This is her third year in Educators Rising and she has competed in Ethical Dilemma at the national level. In her leadership, she has served as an Arkansas State Officer consecutively for three years. She has also been a co-drum major, trumpet section leader, FCCLA treasurer, and vice president for her Educators Rising chapter. Hailey decided that she wanted to pursue education in a unique field, zoos. She hopes to teach all ages about animals and what everyone can do to help protect endangered species. She hopes to be part of the reason everyone leaves with knowledge and encouragement about helping and teaching. Hailey's goals are to make everyone feel welcomed, safe, and loved. She hopes that the knowledge they learn from her passes on and hopefully, her students will want to become teachers in any field they desire. This fall, Hailey will attend Southern Arkansas University where she will receive her bachelor's degree in biology and education. She will also be in the band playing trumpet. She hopes to eventually work at Little Rock Zoo in Arkansas. She hopes to expand it to provide more opportunities for learning on top of extra space for the people and animals. Apart from school, Hailey is in the National Guard, a local community service group, and has a job. She enjoys spending time with her friends, watching TV, and completing acts of service.

National Student Vice President of Communications
Brooke Hess | Sheboygan, Wisconsin

Brooke Hess is a 2024 graduate from Sheboygan North High School in Wisconsin. This is Brooke's third year being a part of Educators Rising. Brooke is proud to be a part of many organizations and clubs over the past four years. Brooke has taken on several leadership roles including lead costume designer from 2022-24 for Theater for Young Audiences on top of her current role as a national officer. In her role, Brooke has enjoyed advocating for Educators Rising and making it more well-known. Brooke wanted to be an officer to grow her knowledge, give herself a support system, and learn valuable professional development skills. She has had many wonderful opportunities such as speaking on panels for webinars and seminars, creating articles for the Student Speaks column in Kappan being on the Wisconsin Teacher of the Year Committee, speaking at the Educators Rising State Conference in Wisconsin, and more. Brooke enjoys creating graphics, posting, and sharing information with other Educators Rising members and hopes to continue to do so in the future. Apart from Educators Rising, Brooke is a valued vocal musician in her area as well as the founder of Sensory Sheboygan, an organization that provides sensory resources to different students and organizations in her community. She also enjoys being outside and spending a weekend with her family and dogs. In the fall, Brooke will be attending the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point, majoring in elementary education.

National Student Vice President of Service
Taylor Jenkins | Seaford, Delaware

Taylor Jenkins is a first-year student at the University of Delaware in Newark, Delaware. She is majoring in computer science with a concentration in cybersecurity. This is her fourth year being involved in Educators Rising, and she has competed in various competitions such as Job Interview, Impromptu Speaking, and Public Speaking, placing in the top three at the national conference for the Job Interview competition. She served as a state officer for Delaware Educators Rising. Taylor has helped many children become more confident in their learning abilities by offering one-on-one tutoring sessions for students in elementary, middle, and high school subjects as well as basic coding for students interested in learning basic computer science skills. Taylor discovered that she loved to help others learn through tutoring and her education pathway at her high school. It began when she tutored family members at home and that led her to partner with other organizations to reach more students in need. She wants to be the kind of teacher that students will feel comfortable and confident with. She plans to graduate with her bachelor’s degree in computer science and work in the cybersecurity industry before entering the education field and using her knowledge and experiences to aid her in teaching computer science to students of all ages. Apart from college work and Educators Rising, Taylor loves to tutor children, go to the gym, and go on adventures to new places.
Educators Rising staff will guide the state and regional coordinators through an in-depth day of reflection and planning for the 2024-25 academic year. This is a working session, and attendees should come prepared with laptops and ideas for the upcoming year.
The journey to becoming an accomplished teacher is a marathon. What should the first steps look like?

The Educators Rising Standards are the answer to this vital question. These seven standards define what aspiring educators need to know and be able to do to take their first steps on the path to accomplished teaching. They serve as the anchor for all Educators Rising programs and opportunities, and at the 2024 conference, they guide breakout session programming.

Educators Rising Standards

Standard I: Understanding the Profession
Rising educators learn about the profession to explore career opportunities, develop skills they need, and make informed decisions about pathways to accomplished teaching.

Standard II: Learning About Students
Rising educators learn about themselves and their students for the purpose of building relationships and supporting student development.

Standard III: Building Content Knowledge
Rising educators learn how to build content knowledge for the purpose of creating relevant learning opportunities for their students.

Standard IV: Engaging in Responsive Planning
Rising educators learn how to respond to students’ needs through thoughtful planning.

Standard V: Implementing Instruction
Rising educators learn effective instructional strategies to engage students and promote learning.

Standard VI: Using Assessments and Data
Rising educators learn to use assessments and interpret data for the purpose of making decisions that will advance teaching and learning.

Standard VII: Engaging in Reflective Practice
Rising educators learn how reflective practice enables them to advance student learning and grow professionally.

Using this program book to choose sessions

Use the Conference Agenda as your guide to conference events. The theme of the conference is “Discovering Your Potential,” and the conference features four different breakout session strands. Strand descriptions are listed below, under their intended audience. Read the strand descriptions to see which sessions are intended for you, then use the session descriptions to determine which ones interest you. For each period, select a first choice and a few alternatives, because you will need to choose another session if the room is full. (Tip: Arrive on time to ensure you get to participate in the sessions that interest you most.)

STUDENT PATH
Strands that focus on those looking to develop a classroom career. Adults are free to attend these strands as well.

Classroom Tips, Tricks, and Innovation Strand
Navigating the road to the classroom and the teaching profession can be challenging. According to the National Commission on Teaching and America’s Future, nearly 50% of new teachers leave the profession in the first five years. In this strand, participants will learn how to successfully land their first job, create a work-life balance, manage their finances to survive on a teacher’s salary, and succeed in the first years of teaching.

College Prep & Success Strand
Applying to college can be an overwhelming task for some students. Helping students navigate the admission process can help them overcome the first hurdle they face in moving toward their education career. Adjusting to college life once they get accepted is another challenge. Many feel lost and unsupported and decide to change career paths or simply drop out entirely. In this strand, participants will learn skills and resources they need to navigate college successfully.

Leadership Training Strand
To help students discover their potential, our rising educators need to know how to be educational leaders in their schools, districts, and at the state and national levels. In this strand, participants will have the opportunity to build their leadership skills.

ADULT PATH
Lifelong learning is a necessity. Whether you are a practicing educator, a community leader, or a retiree, continuing your own education can help you promote student success. In this strand, adult participants will have the opportunity to grow their own skills so that they can more effectively shape the future.

COMMUNITY SERVICE PROJECT
At the delegate meeting in 2023, the delegates voted to make the conference project theme one which highlights underrepresented populations. With this theme in mind, Educators Rising has partnered with Martha’s Table, a local children’s education, nutrition, and emotional wellness support organization, to host a book drive. Members are encouraged to bring early childhood books written by authors from underrepresented populations to the conference to donate. Books will be collected onsite and then sorted and counted by student attendees.

Dogwood: Friday, June 28, 1 – 7 p.m.; Saturday, June 29, 8 a.m – 7 p.m.; Sunday, June 30, 8 a.m – 5 p.m.

CONFERENCE DAILY
Make sure you look for your Conference Daily email delivered to your inbox during the conference. The Conference Daily is full of information about our conference speakers, education sessions, and other events. You’ll see photos of student competitions, the awards ceremony, and more.

EDDY BEAR SPIRIT AWARD
Show your chapter spirit throughout the conference for a chance to be the recipient of Educators Rising’s spirit bear, Eddy. Eddy will be awarded each day of the conference to a school that goes above and beyond to demonstrate the spirit of Educators Rising through teamwork, creativity, or service. The overall winner of our competitions will get to take Eddy home at the end of the conference!

EDUCATORS RISING GAME AND TEAM BUILDING ROOM
Looking for a place to chill, unwind, and have fun after your competition or just to meet new people? Educators Rising has set aside a dedicated space to play games and engage in team-building activities, as well as help with the conference service project, during each competition day of the conference. Play cards, board games, and engage in other fun activities with your National Student Officers, National Student Ambassadors, and PDK International staff along with conference friends from other schools new and old.

Dogwood: Friday, June 28, 1 – 7 p.m.; Saturday, June 29, 8 a.m – 7 p.m.; Sunday, June 30, 8 a.m – 5 p.m.

LIP SYNC BATTLE/KARAOKE
Do you have what it takes to mouth the words to your favorite song for 90 seconds? Are your dance moves compelling enough to keep the crowd entertained? Watch your fellow rising educators bust out their best moves on Friday night! While you’re there, connect with old friends and meet some new ones, too. Enjoy great music as you lip sync on stage or sing along in the crowd — be sure to share your party photos using #EdRising24 and #DiscoverYourPotential.

Afterwards, there will be karaoke. Make sure to sign up at registration as soon as possible since the list will fill up quickly for this popular event.

Marquis Ballroom: Saturday, June 29, 8 – 11 p.m.

NATIONAL SIGNING EVENT
Cheer on our graduating seniors from across the country as they celebrate their commitment to education or join the festivities yourself in our third annual National Signing Event! Participants will be signing letters of commitment to continue to pursue education at the collegiate level, and we will capture the moment the way high school athletes do! Last year’s event was a highlight of the conference, and this year’s promises to be even larger.

Marquis Ballroom: Saturday, June 29, 7 – 8 p.m.

NATIONAL DELEGATE MEETING
Educators Rising, as a Career and Technical Student Organization (CTSO), is a student-led organization. To further cultivate this leadership, the organization holds a delegate meeting annually to determine bylaw changes and discuss national programming. While the privilege of making motions, debating, and voting shall be limited to the designated voting delegates and the National Student Leaders, any member may attend the meeting. Come and watch your delegates in action.

Independence Ballroom: Sunday, June 30, 10 a.m – 12 p.m.
Testing and Training

CURRICULUM TRAINING
Our closed-session training will provide teacher leaders who have registered prior to the conference with an introduction to the Educators Rising Curriculum on how to use the lessons and resources to support their rising educators in learning the knowledge, skills, and dispositions needed to take their first steps on the path to accomplished teaching. Some of the topics will include how the curriculum is organized as well as how to implement a scope and sequence to begin selecting lessons and planning clinical experiences to use in your Educators Rising program. This session is only available to teacher leaders implementing the curriculum who have registered prior to the conference. Registration status of attendees will be verified at the time of the event.
Magnolia: Saturday, June 29, 8 a.m. – 5 p.m., Sunday, June 30, 8 a.m. – 12 p.m.

PRAXIS CORE TESTING
Through a partnership with ETS, PDK International will be giving 50 students a unique opportunity to take the Praxis Core exam at the 2024 Educators Rising National Conference with no testing fee. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors who signed up in advance, who have received a B or better in pre-Calculus and their most recent English class, are eligible.
Liberty O: Saturday, June 29, 10 a.m. – 12 p.m.

BE A STAR! SHARE YOUR STORY WITH THE TEACHING CHANNEL!
Teaching Channel is coming to the Educators Rising National Conference, and they want to hear from Educators Rising students! Teaching Channel will be interviewing students about their experiences, goals, and what excites them about education. They will also be capturing video from some of our public competitions and our general sessions. This is your chance to be featured on a national platform that inspires teachers across the country. Students who have signed permission slips in advance are eligible to participate.

FRIDAY KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Rebecka Peterson, 2023 National Teacher of the Year

Rebecka Peterson has taught high school math classes ranging from intermediate algebra to Advanced Placement calculus, for 11 years at Union High School in Tulsa, Oklahoma. Amid a difficult first year of high school teaching, she found the “One Good Thing” blog. She credits daily posting there to helping her recognize the beautiful and positive experiences occurring in her classroom, which inspired her to stay in the profession. She has since contributed 1,400 posts to the blog. As Oklahoma Teacher of the Year, she has visited teachers across the state to highlight their important work through the Teachers of Oklahoma campaign.

As National Teacher of the Year, Peterson uses her platform to highlight teachers’ stories of the good that’s happening in education. Teaching is a profession that affords creativity, autonomy and purpose, and Peterson believes that highlighting the stories of joy happening in classrooms across the country will help encourage current teachers and attract new educators to the profession.

Peterson is a proud immigrant of Swedish-Iranian descent and lived in several countries around the world as her parents traveled as medical missionaries. Her own experience with supportive teachers who celebrated her diversity and math abilities informs her efforts to create a supportive and accessible classroom for students. She values listening to students’ stories as a way to better understand them and elevate their voice.

Before joining the faculty at Union High School, Peterson taught for three years at the collegiate level. She holds a bachelor’s degree in mathematics from Oklahoma Wesleyan University and a master’s degree in mathematics from the University of South Dakota. She lives in Tulsa, Oklahoma, with her husband, Brett, and son, Jonas, and she enjoys reading, crafting and playing board games.

Join Rebecka Peterson on Friday, June 28, from 7-9 p.m. in the Marquis Ballroom at our Opening General Session

SATURDAY KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Amy Loyd, Assistant Secretary, U.S. Department of Education

Amy Loyd, Ed.L.D., is the Assistant Secretary for the Office of Career, Technical, and Adult Education at the U.S. Department of Education. In this role, she oversees national programs related to career and technical education, community colleges, adult education and literacy, and correctional education.

Prior to joining the Biden-Harris administration, Dr. Loyd was a Vice President at Jobs for the Future (JFF), where she designed and led programs across the U.S. that improve education and workforce outcomes. Her work at JFF focused on state and regional policies, practices, and cross-sector partnerships that engaged K-12 education, community colleges, adult education, workforce development, economic development, and employers to build systems of college and career pathways, leveraging career and technical education. She also oversaw JFF’s work in workforce development with a lens on economic advancement, state and federal policy, and diversity, equity, and inclusion. She previously was the director of education at Cook Inlet Tribal Council, leading a network of schools providing culturally responsive education, training, and wraparound services to the Alaska Native and Native American communities.

Dr. Loyd attended Santa Fe Community College and Northern New Mexico Community College and holds a bachelor’s degree from St. John’s College and a doctorate in education leadership from the Harvard Graduate School of Education, where she was an adjunct lecturer on building career pathways to increase opportunity and equity.

Join Amy Loyd on Saturday, June 29, from 12-2 p.m. in the Marquis Ballroom at our Member Recognition Lunch

Competitions open to public: Educators Rising Moment (Rooms: Congress and Mint), Public Speaking (Rooms: Supreme Court and Monument), and Creative Lecture (Rooms: Liberty I & J)

DISCOVERING YOUR LEADERSHIP POTENTIAL
ROOM: ARCHIVES
Leadership Training
Calvin Plante, Elizabeth Santella
Pinkerton Academy Career and Technical Center

Discover the eight different aspects of leadership from a student perspective and how they interact to help forge the future generation of leaders and educators. This workshop will help students discover more about who they are as leaders and change-makers in their world.

NEW RESOURCES AVAILABLE FOR THE EDUCATORS RISING CURRICULUM
ROOM: CAPITOL
Adult Strand
Debbie Weaver
PDK International

Join us as we unveil the newest resources that are becoming available this school year to support your enhanced use of the Educators Rising Curriculum in your classroom and schools. Learn how you can use new supplemental materials to further engage your students and learn strategies that they will use in their own future classrooms.

TEACHING MYTHS 101: THE “AVERAGE LEARNER”
ROOM: MARQUIS 12/13
Classroom Tips, Tricks, and Innovation
Brigid Cadle, Lana Bresnahan, Emily Mae Stokel, Sophia Van Epps
Portsmouth High School

What is Universal Design for Learning (UDL)? Does one size fit all? Do we teach to the average learner? These questions along with some tricks and tips will be answered in our workshop. The workshop will go into depth about UDL, including the 3 principles of UDL and the benefits of using it in the classroom. Our workshop will look into why the “average learner” does not truly exist and how we can break down barriers so that all students can be successful.

BECOMING A SPECIAL EDUCATION TEACHER
ROOM: LIBERTY L
College Prep & Success
Holli Forrest

Have you thought about becoming a special education teacher? This session will help you prepare for a rewarding career of working with students with disabilities. It will review requirements, go over what to expect, and help participants understand some of the different pathways special education teachers can take in college.
FLYING ABOVE FAILURE
ROOM: ARCHIVES
Leadership Training
Journey Harris
Tarleton State University

In this hands-on workshop, we'll explore the transformative power of embracing failure as an integral part of the learning process. Using a simple yet impactful activity—the Paper Airplane Challenge—we'll illustrate that setbacks are not roadblocks but stepping stones on the path to success. Participants will work to create the perfect paper airplane, aiming for maximum flight distance. The initial attempts may result in varying degrees of success, providing a valuable opportunity for reflection. Through a group discussion, we'll delve into the emotions evoked by initial failures and uncover the lessons learned. The session will encourage participants to view failure not as a limitation but as a catalyst for improvement. After adjusting their paper airplanes, attendees will take part in a second flight test. By engaging in the iterative process, participants will gain insights into the importance of persistence and the transformative potential of learning from failure. They will get a newfound perspective on failure and a set of wings to soar above challenges in their personal and professional journey to allow them to become the leader that they were meant to be.

INSPIRING EDUCATORS OF COLOR:
IMPROVING A GYO TEACHER PATHWAY
ROOM: CAPITOL
Adult Strand
Amira Nash
University of Iowa College of Education Baker Teacher Leader Center

In Iowa City, like many cities in the U.S., the racial, ethnic, and linguistic diversity of teachers is not representative of the students in the schools. The Iowa City Community School District and the Baker Teacher Leader Center at the University of Iowa College of Education have created a partnership to build a pathway program to recruit and retain teachers of color. Utilizing Educators Rising, this partnership includes a unique focus on connecting students to the university teacher education program early and supporting students through their college education. This session will provide information on how to: create partnerships with local teacher preparation programs to offer high-retention pathways; provide formal and informal opportunities for mentorship between veteran and new teachers of color who share critical identities; compensate mentor teachers; and mentoring aspiring teachers with coaching and other professional, academic, and emotional support as well as collaborative planning time and seminars.

EMPOWERING EDUCATORS: FREE ONLINE PD FROM THE IRIS CENTER ON SUPPORTING DIVERSE LEARNING
ROOM: LIBERTY L
Classroom Tips, Tricks, and Innovation
Naomi Tyler
IRIS Center

Join us to explore the innovative offerings of the IRIS Center, housed at Vanderbilt University’s Peabody College and supported by the U.S. Department of Education. This session will highlight how the IRIS Center provides educators with free, dynamic online resources designed to enhance instructional strategies and behavioral practices. Discover tools and materials grounded in evidence-based research, dedicated to assisting struggling learners and students with disabilities. Engage with resources crafted to help all students reach their full potential. This presentation is a must-attend for educators seeking effective, accessible educational solutions. Bring a laptop, tablet, or smartphone and interact with the website during this hands-on session.
IGNITING CURIOSITY AND FOSTERING EQUITY: THE POWER OF PHENOMENA-DRIVEN INSTRUCTION IN SCIENCE EDUCATION
ROOM: MARQUIS 12/13
Classroom Tips, Tricks, and Innovation
Bonnie Nieves
Nipmuc Regional High School

Explore the potential of phenomena-driven instruction in science classrooms. Discover how this approach can ignite students’ natural curiosity, inspire a love for scientific discovery, and create inclusive learning environments where every student thrives. Explore the what, why, and how of phenomena-driven instruction so you can understand its fundamental principles and the impact it has on student engagement and learning outcomes. This approach is integral to the Next Generation Science Standards style of teaching in K-12 education, emphasizing inquiry-based learning and real-world application of scientific concepts. Through this session, educators will gain insights into effectively integrating science and engineering practices to guide students through exploring and explaining phenomena. Attendees will learn how to leverage students’ inherent curiosity to enhance engagement, foster critical thinking and problem-solving skills, and deepen their appreciation for science. The session will equip attendees with a comprehensive toolkit of strategies and resources to design engaging, equitable, and phenomena-based lesson sequences. Emphasis will be placed on promoting inclusivity and equity, ensuring that each student can access and benefit from high-quality science education. Attendees will leave with everything they need to design a lesson sequence starting with phenomena and use science and engineering practices to coach students through the process of explaining the phenomenon.
FRIDAY, JUNE 28

DEVELOPING BLACK HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS TO BE EDUCATORS
ROOM: LIBERTY L
Leadership Training
Ansharaye Hines
The Center for Black ED

This session will explore the ideas and objectives that guide the high school component of the Black Educator Pipeline. Participants will develop an understanding of the nuanced components of Black educator development, and the strategic programming that invests the work of Black education with a sense of purpose that centers current students and the society that will be shaped by the generations of people yet to be born. Our aim is to engage participants as collaborators and fellow change agents who are invested in education as a site for radical social movement toward a more equitable society.

This session invites participants to join us in a participatory examination and exploration of:
- The historical context of the current work to develop high school students as educators.
- The Instructional and Black Liberatory Educational strands that frame the trajectory of high school apprentice development.
- The structures and outcomes of Teaching Academy and the Junior Servant Leader Program–CBED's high school educator development programming.

GET REAL: ENGAGING STUDENTS IN AUTHENTIC LEARNING
ROOM: MARQUIS 12/13
Classroom Tips, Tricks, and Innovation
Tanya Miller
Park Rapids Area High School

Would you feel more engaged in your schoolwork if it had a real-world application? Find out how authentic learning can be used to make intergenerational connections, solve real community problems, and leave a legacy in your hometown. All it takes is looking around to see problems in your own community and then putting your mind to solving them creatively. Instead of memorizing answers to test questions, you will be innovators, creators, and problem-solvers. Students of today will be solving problems that current teachers can't even imagine, so let's get our education system out of the past and prepare students for the future by teaching the 21st century skills of critical thinking, creative problem solving, and communicating.
GETTING STARTED WITH THE EDUCATORS RISING CURRICULUM
ROOM: ARCHIVES
Adult Strand
Molly Kauffman
PDK International

In this session, educators will examine the components of the Educators Rising curriculum and the resources and materials available to help support Grow Your Own efforts through an Educators Rising chapter or class. Participants will explore the standards, features, and updates to the Educators Rising curriculum and how it can be adapted to meet the needs of the student learners while providing current teachers the tools they need to help students be successful and prepared future educators.

AI WITHOUT THE OVERWHELМ
ROOM: CAPITOL
Classroom Tips, Tricks, and Innovation
Samantha Fecich
EduMagic

Incorporating artificial intelligence (AI) into the classroom, aligned with the Danielson Framework for Teaching, fosters an enriching educational environment. By seamlessly integrating AI tools, educators address diverse student needs while maintaining instructional rigor. AI facilitates differentiated instruction, tailoring learning experiences to individual learning styles and paces. This interactive and hands-on session will focus on incorporating AI aligned to the Danielson framework for teaching, which involves looking at tools to support planning and prep, classroom environment, instruction, and professional responsibility.

INTERVIEWING AND BRANDING 101 – THE ART & SCIENCE OF MARKETING YOURSELF FOR EMPLOYMENT SCREENINGS
ROOM: LIBERTY L
College Prep & Success
Paul Fox
Upper St. Clair School District

What are school districts looking for in future teacher candidates? How do you prepare for the interview process? How can you be considered for undergraduate and graduate school admissions, scholarships, and all types of employment? What ways can you practice enhancing your own storytelling skills in presenting your brand of unique skills, talents, past experiences, and achievements? This session will provide hands-on and interactive trial exercises, discussions, and mock practice on the dos and don’ts of interviewing. Participants will explore tips and techniques based on the “art and science” of advance planning, marketing, branding, and networking to “ace” those upcoming job screenings.

THE PLAYBOOK OF PRINCIPLES FOR STUDENTS
ROOM: MARQUIS 12/13
Leadership Training
Ronnie Harvey
Calcasieu Parish School Board

In this dynamic session, Principal Coach Harvey offers a game plan of strategies designed to propel students forward, onward, and upward in school and their community. Principal Coach Harvey will delve deeper into The Playbook of Principles. Students will have the opportunity to fully explore the strategies and concepts outlined in the playbook. Through interactive discussions, engaging activities, and real-life examples, students will depart with the tools and mindset they need to overcome challenges and succeed in school and their community. Students will gain a comprehensive understanding of how to navigate the educational landscape and make the most of their academic journey. Principal Coach Harvey will emphasize the importance of resilience, goal setting, effective communication, and collaboration in achieving success. This presentation aims to create a transformative experience for students, empowering them to take control of their education and reach new heights.

RETHINKING HIGH SCHOOL FOR MEANINGFUL, ENGAGED TEACHING AND LEARNING
ROOM: ARCHIVES
Classroom Tips, Tricks, and Innovation
Ann-Katherine Kimble
XQ

Crosstown High, an XQ school in Memphis, opened with an ambitious mission to break away from traditional high school structures. Instead of textbooks, lectures, and rows of desks, Crosstown set out to offer a different approach to learning—by using competencies and project-based learning. Through clips from XQ’s documentary, “The First Class,” and lively conversation, XQ’s Director of School Success Ann-Katherine Kimble, an XQ educator, and a recent Crosstown High graduate will share how this new approach transformed how Crosstown continues to define teaching and learning and encourages aspiring teachers to be bold, innovative, and creative in developing their own art of teaching.

Session attendees will also have the chance to participate in a design sprint utilizing XQ’s tools and researched-backed competencies to create a new learning experience that will serve as instructional inspiration as they continue to grow as future educators. And there will be swag! We hope to see you there!

This session is perfect for students, educators, and anyone passionate about creating a more meaningful and engaging learning experience for all students.

EMBARKING THE E3-TRAIN – ESSENTIALS FOR FUTURE EDUCATORS – WHAT IT TAKES TO BECOME A TEACHER: ETHOS, ETHICS, AND ENGAGEMENT
ROOM: LIBERTY L
College Prep & Success
Paul Fox
Pennsylvania Music Educators Association Council for Teacher Training, Recruitment, and Retention

Do you know the meaning of fiduciary, moral professionalism, and ethical equilibrium? Can you name the difference between a moral principle and an ethical standard, both of which will be used to guide your daily decision-making as an educator? What are the two types of codes that all professionals must embrace in their job, and why are they more essential than becoming a content expert in a preferred subject or teaching level? During this session, we will introduce the Model Code of Ethics for Educators of the National Association of State Directors of Teacher Education and Certification. Fostering open and interactive discussion, we will empanel a mock ethics jury (volunteers from the attendees) to assess fictitious fact scenarios of potential ethical issues, hazardous choices or vulnerabilities, and even tackle a few conundrums or problems in educator decision making.

LAUNCHING YOUR TEACHING CAREER: BENEFITS OF ASPIRING EDUCATORS & EDUCATORS RISING COLLEGIATE
ROOM: ARCHIVES
College Prep & Success
Mary Kate Gebhart
PDK International

In this session, we will dive into the advantages of joining Aspiring Educators and Educators Rising Collegiate, two organizations designed to empower and support you on your journey to the classroom.

Why join?
• Network & connect: Build relationships with current educators and aspiring colleagues through conferences, workshops, and online forums. Gain valuable insights and share experiences.
• Develop your skills: Access professional development opportunities like Praxis test prep, competitions, leadership training, and workshops on best practices.
• Advocate for change: Be a voice for future educators! Learn how to advocate for policies that improve teacher education and public schools.
• Scholarship & grant opportunities: Unlock financial resources to help you pursue your teaching dreams.
• Jumpstart your career: Find job openings, explore mentorship programs with experienced educators, and get a head start on your teaching career.

Bringing together Educators Rising and NEA Aspiring Educators resources is a winning combination as you learn, explore your profession, and face the challenges and issues that impact teachers today. This combined membership offers a unique advantage — one membership, double the benefits! Don't miss out on this chance to jumpstart your teaching journey.

SOL REVIEW WITH EDIBLE MATH
ROOM: CAPITOL
Classroom Tips, Tricks, and Innovation
Jewel Worthy
Hunter B. Andrews PK-8/Hampton City Schools

Would you like to review various skills before the SOL (Standards of Learning) tests in an engaging way? This session will suggest how to use edible manipulatives to review critical vocabulary for several standards. Help your students to identify different polygons, angles, and lines with the everyday objects in the kitchen cabinet. The creative activities will provide an opportunity to find the perimeter and area with tasty four-sided figures. Each middle school and high school student and teacher leader in the session will receive interactive ideas that support the mastery of the various standards in math. Participants will even have a chance to tackle probability using colorful objects. One way to get students excited about finding the mean, median, mode, and range is by using a set of data that they can eat after they create a bar graph or line graph.

CONQUERING PUBLIC SPEAKING 101
ROOM: LIBERTY L
Leadership Training
Albert Chen
PDK International

Educators are often asked to speak in public but may not be trained to speak beyond the classroom. In this session, we will learn to embrace public speaking through learning the mechanics of creating a dynamic presentation and using your nerves to be an even better speaker. Albert Chen, PDK’s COO, has trained thousands of speakers at all levels to be the best they can be. Join us and begin your own path to becoming a successful public speaker.

BREWING BRILLIANCE: NAVIGATING THE START OF TEACHING
ROOM: MARQUIS 12/13

Aleta Margolis
Center for Inspired Teaching

Students often don’t get to practice the skill of having meaningful discussions with peers around controversial topics. Such conversations require careful planning and management to ensure participants feel seen, heard, and respected. Practice leading such discussions is excellent preparation to be a teacher who instigates thought and creates an engaging learning environment. In this session, participants will learn about the Speak Truth approach that the Center for Inspired Teaching has been using for nearly a decade. A group of high school students will lead participants in a Speak Truth seminar, illustrating what these powerful conversations entail. After the seminar, the students and Inspired Teaching staff will share resources to support the program’s implementation where you live, including an invitation to facilitate conversations across cultural, social, and physical divides among high school students throughout the U.S.

TEST LIKE THE TEST MAKER: BEATING HIGH STAKES EXAMS
ROOM: LIBERTY L
College Prep & Success
Albert Chen
PDK International

If you don’t know how test items are constructed and how they are designed, you will fall prey to their pitfalls and traps. To be a great test taker, you must learn how to be a great test item designer.

In this session, you will not only learn how to create great questions and answers but more importantly you will learn the major distractor types and how they are used to weed out the good test takers from the uninformed, and why to understand how to critically think through the exam is often more important than getting a question right. You will then be empowered to use this knowledge to deconstruct them on the fly when you take these exams yourself.

In our profession, we decry the use of standardized tests and multiple-choice exams to the point that we turn a blind eye to them in professional development. However, the SAT, the ACT, the Praxis, and the like are all realities that you and your students must face regardless of your stance on them. Test prep programs themselves are an equity concern for the haves and have-nots, and not all test preparation is made equal. Please join Albert Chen, COO of PDK International and veteran of the standardized test wars. Albert has not only been working in education for the past 30 years but spent 12 of those years at Kaplan Test Prep’s field and corporate offices learning how to deconstruct the exams, and taking apart question types to help tens of thousands of students succeed in their dreams despite the biases and inequities of these exams.

This panel and information session will consist of our current student officers sharing their experiences as leaders, why they became officers, and what it takes to be a student leader.
SUPPORTING EDUCATORS WITH ETHICAL DECISIONS IN THE CLASSROOM
ROOM: ARCHIVES
Classroom Tips, Tricks, and Innovation
Lisa Colon Durham
ETS

Making ethical decisions in the classroom can be a challenging prospect. However, ProEthica helps to establish ethical frameworks with guiding principles. During this session, we’ll discuss ProEthica and the greater value of professional ethical standards in positively shaping a future educator’s professional interactions and relationships.

ProEthica helps teachers do the following:

- Develop an understanding of professional ethics.
- Understand the principles embodied in the Model Code of Ethics for Educators (MCEE).
- Prepare to make decisions that minimize risk, protect students, protect educators, and elevate the profession.

Through this interactive session, participants will:

- Learn a common language for conveying educator ethics.
- Study video narratives with ethical dilemmas.
- Engage with Scenario Based Learning activities.
- Make decisions, and then learn how those choices affect the classroom.

Join us to see how ProEthica can support the educators of tomorrow!

UNDERSTANDING THE COLLEGE ADMISSIONS PROCESS

Angela Walmsley
Concordia University Wisconsin

Students will leave this session understanding some of the key components of the college admissions process, including the Common App. Students will learn what is needed for college admission, including strong academics, community service, school and non-school activities, and a strong essay. Students will learn about how and why to consider taking ACT and SAT exams. Lastly, students will understand the different types of application deadlines and decisions.

UNLEASHING THE POWER OF STUDENT VOICE TO TRANSFORM THE EDUCATION SYSTEM
ROOM: MARQUIS 12/13
Leadership Training
Anika Yu, George-Constantinos Charonis
National Student Board Member Association

The National Student Board Member Association (NSBMA) empowers students on school boards across the U.S. We also focus on building equitable student voice and representation, such as through student advisory councils (SACs) and including student voices at every level of the decision-making process. This session will focus on discovering the potential, power, and impact of student voice within the education system. We will discuss meaningful student representation and intergenerational collaboration within the education system.

This presentation will answer the following questions:

- Why does student representation matter?
- How can adults and students work together towards meaningful change in their communities?

NSBMA works to connect, support, and educate student school board members and other educational stakeholders to strengthen student representation in education decision-making.

Teresa Preston

PDK International

Educators and rising educators have important stories and perspectives about the state of our schools and education system. So how can you share your ideas and experiences with the public? As PDK’s director of publications and Kappan’s editor-in-chief, Teresa Preston reviews hundreds of manuscripts each year from educators hoping to get their work into print. In this session, she will share tips for getting your work published. Learn how to identify the right audience, find places to publish, and craft an article that will capture readers’ attention. Find out how to avoid some of the common mistakes that land manuscripts in the reject pile. This session will focus on articles for magazines and websites, but the suggestions can apply to other forms of writing as well.
EMPOWERING TOMORROW: THE INFLUENCE OF LATINO REPRESENTATION IN EDUCATION
ROOM: ARCHIVES
Classroom Tip, Tricks, and Innovation
Edgar Palacios
Latinx Education Collaborative

This presentation explores the profound impact of Latino representation in education. It delves into the transformative potential when students see themselves reflected in their teachers, curricula, and leadership roles. By highlighting success stories and research findings, it illustrates how diverse representation fosters a sense of belonging, enhances academic performance, and cultivates cultural pride among Latino students.

Furthermore, the presentation examines the broader societal benefits of Latino representation in education, such as breaking down stereotypes, promoting inclusivity, and enriching the learning experience for all students. Through interactive discussions and compelling data, attendees will gain a deeper understanding of why representation matters and how educational institutions can foster a more inclusive and equitable environment.

Attendees will leave inspired and equipped with actionable strategies to promote and support Latino representation in their own educational communities, contributing to a more diverse, equitable, and enriched learning environment for all.

ACTIVATING CIRCLES OF SUPPORT FOR NEURODIVERGENT LEARNERS
ROOM: CAPITOL
Adult Strand
DeShanna Reed
D. Reed Coaching, Consulting & Advocacy

According to U.S. Department of Education statistics for 2021, 15% of all public school students —about 7.2 million students — received services under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act. Outcomes for neurodivergent students have shown little to no improvement. While many schools offer college and career readiness counseling for general education students, very little attention is paid to the post-secondary preparation needs of students in special education programming. Based on a TEDx talk Dr. Reed delivered at TEDxColumbiaCollegeSC, this session outlines concentric circles of post-secondary support and explains how activating each layer can improve readiness and successful transitions for neurodivergent students.

HOW WE UPSKILL HIGH SCHOOLERS TO BE READING AND MATH TUTORS IN THEIR FIELD EXPERIENCES IN ARIZONA’S LARGEST SCHOOL DISTRICT
ROOM: LIBERTY L
Classroom Tip, Tricks, and Innovation
Lennon Audrain
Arizona State University

Tutoring as a field experience is an evidence-based practice for preparing high-quality teachers. Arizona’s largest school district’s Education Professions program is preparing its students to be reading and math tutors as a major requirement of their work-based learning and field experiences. In this session, you will hear how we prepare students, in partnership with Arizona State University, to be reading and math tutors through ASU’s Community Educator Learning Hub, rehearsals, and other high-leverage teacher preparation pedagogies. You will hear about how field experiences are structured, how feedback is provided to high school students, and how you can build tutoring-based field experiences into your Education & Training program in the coming school year.
HOW TO EFFECTIVELY TEACH AND COMMUNICATE WITH CULTURALLY AND LINGUISTICALLY DIVERSE STUDENTS AND FAMILIES IN U.S. MIDDLE AND HIGH SCHOOLS
ROOM: MARQUIS 12/13
Classroom Tips, Tricks, and Innovation
Carolyn Peterson
University of Massachusetts Amherst

In this session, you will learn a variety of effective strategies and research-based best practices for working with culturally and linguistically diverse middle and high school students and their families. These strategies include differentiated instruction, ways to celebrate language and cultural diversity in the classroom, and translation and translanguaging tools that classroom teachers and preservice teachers can utilize during instruction and for communication with culturally and linguistically diverse families. Communication with multilingual students and their families can feel daunting if you are not given the proper tools and support. My goal is to help you feel more prepared and confident in your current teaching role and/or future teaching role in a K-12 school when you are striving to help your multilingual students and families navigate learning the English language and achieve success in a general education classroom setting. Through providing you with easy-to-use and effective tools you can use during your classroom instruction, your current and future multilingual students will benefit from the variety of strategies and instructional practices designed to target their cultural and linguistic needs in the classroom setting.

This session provides a valuable perspective of the student experience while also showcasing how the curriculum can be used by Teacher Leaders in thought-provoking and meaningful ways to drive student learning in classwork and/or chapter meetings. There will be a follow-up model lesson in the next breakout session group to further demonstrate how the 3-Day/5-Day EdRising curriculum materials can be used over the course of several lessons to build key instructional skills. These are sessions you don't want to miss!

CREATING POWERFUL LEARNER-CENTERED SPACES THAT ENCOURAGE STUDENT AGENCY
ROOM: LIBERTY I-K
Classroom Tips, Tricks, and Innovation
Starr Sackstein
Mastery Portfolio

Being in charge of our own learning is essential for transformative experiences. In this session, participants will challenge their beliefs about what makes a learner-centered space and how they can develop a culture of curiosity and growth for all people. By exploring traditional beliefs about education spaces and challenging them, participants will think about their own educational philosophies. Additionally, we will explore some ways you can build relationships with the learners and partner with them for successful practices that empower agency. Specifically, we will discuss the formative assessment process — learner clarity, goal setting, self and peer assessment, and metacognitive practices. We will look at how this process shapes the way learners can achieve a personalized experience that will enhance the full learning community.
THE FOCUSED LIFESTYLE CHOICE FOR COLLEGE PREPPING: START WRITING YOUR COMMON APP
ROOM: LIBERTY L
College Prep & Success
Colette Perrone
schoolberries, inc.

Being accepted into the program and college of your choice should be a fun and intentional process of self-discovery and pursuit of passions. Start thinking beyond a crammed application season of prettying up a montage of random activities you’ve done in high school to fill the Lilliputian boxes on the Common App. Plan early and strategically to make the most of your high school coursework and extracurriculars. Engage the right people in the process, reflect upon your unique strengths, experiences, and interests, and immerse yourself in a targeted exploration of an angular cause — your own cause. Through the rigor and selection of your courses in high school and a trajectory showcasing that you have a purpose and intention, create an application process that empowers you to select a college, program, and major suited to your individuality. Learn how to create and format your activity and awards lists, how activities are tiered by college admission panelists, and the how, when, and where of submitting an impactful Common App and personal statement. You provide the why!

CULTURAL DIVERSITY IN LITERATURE
ROOM: SHAW/LADROIT PARK
Classroom Tips, Tricks, and Innovation
Jodie Tucker, Adrianna Cooper, Aaliyah Lehan
Whitmer Career & Technology Center

Do you want to learn more about adding diversity to the literature you share with your future students? During this session, future educators will learn the importance of diversity in books for early childhood students. You will engage in interactive activities with fellow attendees to brainstorm and share your own thoughts and ideas. It is vital to expose all students to diverse books at an early age to help ensure children feel like they have an authentic place in this world. Let us help you increase this diversity for your future students. You will take back ideas on how to provide a more diverse environment in your future classroom. Participants will also receive a link to a virtual library created with books that promote diversity!

2024 Educators Rising Scholarship Recipients

Educators Rising is a division of PDK International. One of the many ways that PDK supports Educators Rising and fulfills its vision of cultivating great educators for tomorrow is through the PDK Educational Foundation. The PDK Educational Foundation awards more than 100 scholarships a year to individuals pursuing a career in education.

2023–2024 National Student Ambassadors

The Educators Rising Ambassador Program allows students to add leadership experience to their college applications or résumés, have their voices heard on a national level, and network virtually with other rising educators and teachers from across the country. Educators Rising student ambassadors represent the organization through social media and events. Student ambassadors help the national student leaders in pushing initiatives and events to the Educators Rising members.

Katelyn Christopherson
Katelyn Christopherson has just finished her junior year at Harrisburg High School in Harrisburg, South Dakota. She hopes to attend college to pursue a secondary education degree for history and go on to eventually teach at the middle school level. Katelyn is active in Educators Rising from the local to the state to the national level. She is on the Harrisburg Chapter’s Senior Leadership Team, President of South Dakota Educators Rising, and is passionate about her position as an ambassador. She was thrilled to attend the conference last year and took third place at Nationals in the Lesson Plan Humanities competition. This ambassador is excited to represent South Dakota and Educators Rising at the conference again through competition after receiving first place in Lesson Plan STEM at the South Dakota State Conference and wish all who are competing the best of luck. Katelyn has loved her position as an ambassador and is very excited to meet all of you.

Shae’Aunna Johnson
Shae’Aunna Johnson is a senior attending Many High School in Louisiana. This fall she will be a freshman at Northwestern State University. Shae has been an Educators Rising ambassador for three years, as well as a student leader for her parish. Shae hopes to one day be Dr. Johnson but first she will start with teaching English language arts at elementary level.

Elizabeth Kaufmann
Elizabeth Kaufmann is a 16-year-old from Sheboygan North High School in Sheboygan, Wisconsin. She’s a junior and this is her second year being a member of Educators Rising. Her love for the organization came very easily as she thoroughly enjoys educating others, supporting her community, and connecting with those around her. Elizabeth is a National Ambassador, meaning she has a strong social media presence allowing people worldwide to see the positive influence of Educators Rising. She believes Educators Rising is a program for all people, because everyone is an educator in some way. Being an educator comes in many different shapes and colors, which means all teachers may not be in a classroom. She doesn’t see herself in a classroom setting but instead on the stage. Elizabeth has an incredible passion for the arts, especially film and theater. In the future, she wants to be a teacher that provides a safe space for children to find confidence in themselves and feel inspired to show the world their beauty and talent. Teachers should be supportive, safe, and inspirational when it comes to their connections with children, and Elizabeth promises to be that for all her students one day.

Calvin Plante
Calvin Plante is a graduating senior from New Hampshire. He is his chapter spokesperson, a state officer, and a Educators Rising National Ambassador. In his free time, he likes to join a lot of clubs and organizations, such as AFJROTC, Class Office, and National Honor Society. He is planning on attending American University in the fall 2024 on an AFROTC Type 1 Scholarship. He is double majoring in secondary education and history and minoring in political science. He plans to commission into the U.S. Space Force as a 2nd Lieutenant, and then after serving for four to eight years, he plans to become a Space Force Junior Reserve Officer Corps Instructor or a high school history teacher.
2023–2024 National Student Ambassadors

Kali Sieger
Kali Sieger has been a member of Educators Rising for three years. She will be a graduate of the 2024 senior class at Lafayette County High School in Stamps, Arkansas. During her time in this program, she has competed in Ethical Dilemma, held the titles of Arkansas State Historian and Chapter officer for three years, and served as National ambassador for two years. Kali’s love for teaching has done nothing but grow. Along with all the other clubs she is a part of, she enjoys her time in the classroom helping her students and learning to be the best leader she can be.

Ivy Grace Smith
Ivy Grace Smith is a recent graduate of Cleburne High School in Cleburne, Texas, and she is a proud Texan! She has been a member of Educators Rising for three years, but this is her first year as a National Ambassador. During her three years of membership, Ivy Grace has advanced to the Educators Rising National Conference twice and placed 3rd and 6th, respectively. She advanced to the National Competition for the third time this year and is eager to compete again in Washington, D.C. Outside of her involvement in Educators Rising, Ivy Grace is active in other school, community, and church events. She is passionate about helping others and strives to be a servant in all situations. Ivy Grace is a firm believer in the power of education and believes education is fundamental to a functioning democracy and a stronger society. This fall, Ivy Grace will attend The University of Alabama to study elementary education, hoping to become a licensed classroom teacher. However, after teaching, Ivy Grace wants to return to school to pursue a career in education law and policy. Ivy Grace is eager to teach and advocate for students every day.

Sarah Steeves
Sarah Steeves is a senior at Appoquinimink High School in Delaware. Next year she will major in elementary education at West Chester University. Sarah is involved in Educators Rising as chapter President and Social Media Manager, a Delaware State Officer, and a National Ambassador. She has competed with two Children's books that qualified for Nationals. Outside of Educators Rising, Sarah participates in many clubs at her school including National Honors Society and Pathway Ambassadors. She is also part of the theater department as stage manager and sound board operator in many different productions. Sarah dedicates a lot of her time working for her small business. She crochets and sells stuffed animals. Sarah enjoys learning new things and being creative whether it is crocheting, sewing, baking, or digital design. She has wanted to be a teacher since she was young, but throughout high school she has learned the impact that she wants to have on kids' lives. Between volunteering at local schools, tutoring, and student teaching, Sarah wants to be able to inspire students and encourage them to want to learn. She is excited to attend her second National Conference and cannot wait to meet all of you.

Elbert Thomas
Elbert Thomas is a senior at Yazoo County High School in Mississippi where he wears many hats. This is Elbert's first time being an ambassador for Educators Rising. Elbert plans to be a music therapist and help students who have problems physically, socially, emotionally, and cognitively. He wants to be a music therapist because he feels it not only helps special needs students, but all students.

Riley Wagner
Riley Wagner, a senior at Tiffin Columbian High School and Sentinel Career & Technology Center in Ohio, aspires to become a high school history teacher. Committed to education, she plans to major in integrated social studies education at Bowling Green State University to obtain her AYA teaching license in history. Beyond academics, Riley is active in theatre, choir, dance, and bowling, while also excelling in organizations like the Tri-M Music Honor Society, National Honor Society, and National Technical Honor Society. She’s been a dedicated member of Educators Rising for three years, recently achieving the title of 2023 National Champion in Interactive Bulletin Board, highlighting her creativity and teaching prowess. Alongside her extracurricular involvement, Riley contributes as a member of the Tiffin Community Foundation Youth Advisory Committee, showcasing her commitment to community service and positive change.

Career protection for PDK members

Educators face many challenges in schools these days, but inadequate professional liability protection doesn’t need to be one of them.

PDK’s Member Insurance Program offers affordable professional liability insurance for educators in any school setting. The Educators Professional Liability Plan for employed educators provides $1 million in liability protection starting at $108 per year and features:

- Broad coverage for a range of exposures associated with your professional duties if your school won’t or can’t adequately defend you.

- All defense costs paid in addition to the liability limit if you end up in court.

- Job protection benefits if you’re subject to a job action such as demotion, transfer, reassignment or dismissal.

Professional liability plans also are available for educators who are independent contractors or private practitioners, and there’s a specially priced plan for student educators. For more information, visit www.ftj.com/go/PDK-PRO

Coverage offered through the Trust for Insuring Educators (TIE), which is administered by Forrest T. Jones & Company, 3130 Broadway, Kansas City, MO 64111. Toll-free: (800) 821-7303. This advertisement is for informational purposes only and does not define, alter, limit, or expand any insurance policy in any way.
